MDDUS LAUNCHES INNOVATIVE 'GREENSHOOTS' DENTAL LECTURES

The medical defence organisation MDDUS has launched an innovative 'Greenshoots' dental lecture series which will visit six different Scottish towns and cities in the next few weeks.

This exciting new venture will allow all members of the dental team to benefit from the vast experience of the MDDUS team of medico-legal advisers and employment law specialists Law at Work.

In keeping with the 'Greenshoots' title, the lectures will aim to help "plant good dental practice for life."

Aubrey Craig, head of the dental division, says: "The lecture series will allow MDDUS to assist all delegates with handling complaints, claims, General Dental Council matters and relevant employment issues.

"We live in a very litigious world so everyone should know how to deal with patient related issues. These lectures will stand any dentist – at any stage in their career – in good stead."

The six venues for the lecture series are:

Inverness – Wednesday 21 April at the Drumossie Hotel

Aberdeen – Thursday 22 April at the Thistle Hotel

Dundee – Tuesday 27 April at the Apex Hotel

Edinburgh – Wednesday 28 April at the Norton House Hotel

Dumfries – Wednesday 5 May at the Aston Hotel

Glasgow – Thursday 6 May at the Park Inn

The events will commence with dinner at 6.30pm after which the lectures will run through until close at 8.45pm.
